DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 38-58, 61-63, 65 drawn to a method of preparing a prepared cell, comprising encapsulating said cell in a cell encapsulation medium.

Group II, claim(s) 59-60, 64, and 66 drawn to a method of providing cell therapy to a patient.

Group III, claim(s) 67-74, drawn to a kit for cell based therapy comprising an integrin binding partner and instructions.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Groups I-III appear to share the technical relationship of being drawn to methods of cell encapsulation, particularly wherein the methods comprise encapsulating cells in a cell encapsulating medium comprising an integrin binding partner as an encapsulating product. However, this technical relationship shared among Groups I-III does not make constitute a special technical relationship since it does not make a contribution over the prior art. See for example Ramdi et al. (1993; See Search Report of WO 2004/058305 A3), which describes an encapsulation methodology that is carried out in the presence of an integrin binding partner, namely type I collagen, type IV collagen, and fibronectin (as defined by instant claim 39). See page 451, 2nd col., for the following:

Entrapped Cells

Cell proliferation kinetics. Cell proliferation was carried out in each case as described under Materials and Methods. Immobilized cells were cultured within alginate matrices loaded with the same adjuvants as monolayers. Representative growth curves are shown in Fig. 4. For all the cultures we noticed an increasing response over time with a short lag period at Day 1. Matrices with type I collagen, type IV collagen, or type (I + IV) collagen + fibronectin appeared to constitute the appropriate conditions for cell proliferation. They allow for an exponential response from Days 1 to 4.

Ramdi et al. (1993), clearly reads on the technical feature shared among the recited groups. Thus, it is concluded that Groups I-III are considered to lack unity of invention.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.
4. The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

6. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejections are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowances are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

7. In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

8. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
